Pasadena Museum of California Art
(Edgar Payne Exhibit)
Thursday, October 4 $58
8:30-5:00*

Two of Pasadena's most interesting, small museums are within walking distance of one another. Beginning with a docent tour of the Pacific Asia Museum and Gardens, this exquisite building reflects a northern Chinese, palace-style architecture found nowhere else in the U.S.

Lunch is on your own, with many restaurants within walking distance of the museum.

Following lunch a docent will guide us through the Edgar Payne (1883-1947) Exhibit at the Pasadena Museum of California Art. Payne was one of the leaders of the historic California plein air artists' movement.

THE PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Happy Autumn – traditionally a time of renewed commitments and involvement. If you've vowed to increase your activity levels after the dog- "daze" of summer, active participation in OLLI is vital to fulfilling many of those personal pledges.

In May, instead of our traditional annual leadership planning meeting, we held three Delphi exploratory group meetings, learning from participating OLLI members what "works" and what doesn't. Bob Deane graciously volunteered his time and expertise, advising OLLI leadership on the process, facilitating the group sessions, tabulating the results and presenting them to the board and group participants in June.

Tabulated group results were presented under the headings – Positives and Challenges. The highest ranking Positive: OLLI provides mental, social and emotional stimulus.

A tie in the highest ranking Challenges: Better classroom facilities.

Too few people doing the majority of the work or the need for more volunteers.

To address Challenge #1, inadequate classroom facilities, we are asking for a few volunteers with interest and some experience in the following fields: commercial real estate, architecture, law, American's with Disabilities Act and related fields to gather together and come up with ideas to meet this challenge. It isn't too early to begin this process. If you want to help in this way, please contact me at pdmcanative@att.net

The lease for our classroom at Woodbridge expires May 2013. While many participants enjoy the location including a wonderful lake view, most agree that the classroom itself is not beneficial to mental, social and emotional stimulus and it isn't easily accessible for our seasoned members.

Challenge #2 – We have lots of volunteer opportunities, from entry level course facilitation and envelope stuffing to curriculum committee membership, course development and leadership positions. Please contact our Coordinator of Volunteers Leah Jordan at jordanlr@cox.net. Your active participation is welcome.

Thank you to everyone who has given so generously of their time and talents contributing to the success of OLLI at UCI.

OLLI BOARD MINUTES, AUGUST 15, 2012

The August 15 OLLI Board meeting was called to order by President Pam McGovern. The June 15 minutes were approved. Pam, Julie Hume and Tanya Zabalegui will form a small committee to investigate how OLLI can find better facilities -- the first goal of the Focus Group concerns.

The financial reports, prepared by Treasurer Sherri Nussbaum, for July and the end of year were approved. There is a $16,000 surplus.

Pat Linehan, VP/Adm. announced that new members will be sent a welcoming email informing them to pick up their name tag at the office. Revised pages of the Policies, Procedures & Planning Manual were given to each board member.

Jan Elbaum, VP/Membership announced that the New Member Coffee will be held on Friday, Sept. 21 in the Onken classroom.

VP/ Programs, Jessie Tromberg recommends a Friday-at-Four social event at the UClub with $4.00/ wine, tea and cookies. Travel talks will continue on Sept. 15, Oct. 13 and Nov. 3.

Joann Burch, Dir/Communications announced that the 30 second Public Service announcement is finished and will be used for marketing.

Leah Jordan, Dir/ Volunteer Development, reported there were 32 new attendees at the Open House – did they enroll?

Julie Hume, Dir/Special Projects, stated that the Chancellor will speak at the University Forum on Nov. 28, not Oct. 24.

The office reported that OLLI has 481 members so far this year, 156 of whom enrolled online. OLLI will soon have an internet upgrade that is faster and wireless. The AC problem is being resolved. Tanya Zabalegui, UCI Liaison, plans to organize an Open House for UCI faculty as a way to increase OLLI awareness on campus. Plans for an OLLI Fifteenth Anniversary celebration were discussed.

Submitted by Nila Kyser, Secretary

HUBBARD STREET AND LINES BALLET AT UCI

Be the first to see the culmination of a one-of-a-kind collaborative residency between two of America's most prestigious contemporary dance companies. Hubbard Street Dance Chicago and Alonzo King LINES Ballet share the stage at Claire Trevor Theatre to present an inspiring new work by LINES Artistic Director Alonzo King, created within the dance studios of UCI's Dance Department. LINES Ballet's ethereal and linear neo-classical focus joins Hubbard Street's earthy and athletic contemporary style. This fusion of contrasts informs the content of the new work, as King experiments with pairing dancers across companies and creating intriguing new movement. Informal showings, followed by Q&A with Artistic Directors, are at 7:00 PM on Friday, September 14 and 6:00 PM on Saturday, September 15. Tickets are $25 general, $11 students. Call Box Office at 949.824.2787 or visit www.arts.uci.edu/calendar (complete 2012-13 arts season schedule is posted).

TRAVEL TALK

Where in the World Have We Been?

Our TravelTalk series treks back Saturday, September 15 with a look at the Dolomites, the Italian Alps in northeast Italy and a 13th century Tuscan Villa that houses a cooking school!

Lonnie Horn, Olli's intrepid traveler, will show and tell about her hiking and cooking experiences. All are invited, no reservations required, bring your own breakfast if you wish. Woodbridge Onken classroom, Saturday, Sept. 15, 9:30AM Ciao!

MOVIE TALK

CAMPAIGN

Are you sick and tired of mud-slinging verbal nonsense, the holier-than-thou faithful of all parties, money-can-buy-you anything, and perfectly coiffed families constantly on view from morning to night? Well, apparently so were the people involved with this Warner Brothers movie.

It's an equal opportunity riff, a la Saturday Night Live, with every recognizable face from the news broadcasting business and Comedy Central. No one (thankfully) is spared a skewering. Will Ferrell, Zach Galifianakis, Dan Akroyd, John Lithgow present a crude, but mostly amusing, attack on the great American tradition known as the CAMPAIGN.

HOPE SPRINGS

With a cast like Meryl Streep, Tommy Lee Jones, Steve Carell - how could the film not be enchanting!

This is the latest entry in for "mature" audiences only. In fact, the newspaper listing guide stars each movie time with a 21+ before each show time. Seems sort of senseless since it's the story of a married-for-31 years couple who are definitely AARP material. Meryl and Tommy Lee, always powerful on screen no matter what kind of characters they portray, do their best; but when Steve Carell's wardrobe becomes a distraction, something's up. In one scene, Carell, the therapist trying to help re-kindle their marriage, wears a gorgeous tweed jacket with flecks of aqua, over a checkered shirt with an aqua knit tie that carries that aqua theme right through.

There are good moments, but a film that relies on a denouement filled with visuals not necessary to the story screams uncertainty.

But hey, let's be grateful they're beginning to notice our demographic.

OLLI LIBRARY

LIBRARY EXPLORATION

Have you explored the OLLI library holdings? Our new board member (Joann Burch—Director of Communications) reviewed European History and European Lives—1715-1914:

In 36 thirty-minute CDs, Professor Jonathan Steinberg uses biographies of great historical figures to explain how the Old World of lord and serf, horse and carriage, superstition and disease turned into the Modern World of boss and worker, steam and steel, science and medicine. By describing the lives of kings and queens, generals and artists, thinkers and entrepreneurs, Professor Steinberg presents a fascinating timeline of European history from 1715-1914.

The first half covers the years 1715-1815, from the end of Louis XIV's attempt to dominate Europe to Napoleon's defeat plus the introduction of the concept of liberty, equality, and fraternity. The second half covers the years 1815-1914 including the Industrial Revolution with its explosion of science and technology. Among the featured biographies are Charles Darwin, Louis Pasteur, Queen Victoria (who slowly gave up her royal powers, resulting in the democratization of English life) and other personalities bringing in the modern era.

This was an interesting approach to the study of history although there were gaps in the knowledge I acquired. What I liked about Steinberg's approach were the comparisons he made: Robespierre and Osama bin Laden both needed to control ideas and attempted to keep out what they considered evil influences; Nathan Rothschild was the Ross Perot or Sam Walton of the 1800s; Jean Jacques Rousseau was the first to ask, a generation before the U.S. Constitution was drafted, what is the meaning of democracy and the "will" of the people?"
